Institute for the Future (IFTF) wishes to officially recognize CENTRO's Diseño de Mañana program for its excellence in training a new generation of design futurists. In collaboration with faculty and through mentoring students, IFTF has seen directly the quality of ideas and creativity of their work. These program faculty and students have already contributed greatly to the field of foresight and design, winning awards from futures organizations and publishing important work in the academic literature. Diseño de Mañana is an essential node of Latin American futures, and is poised to continue to develop its already excellent global reputation as a foresight leader.
